DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 31 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Huusko et al. (US Patent 6,397,065).

Regarding claim 31, Huusko teaches A network controller for supporting a terminal in a telecommunications system including a core network (See Fig. 3, item CN) and an access network (See Fig. 3, item RAN), the network controller comprising: a reporting module (Col. 8, lines 18-27) configured to report location information of the terminal to the core network; and a transforming module configured to transform the location information into transformed location information, wherein the transforming module transforms the location information into transformed location information prior to the reporting module reporting the location information of the terminal to the core network (Col. 8, lines 28-67; Col. 9, lines 1-4).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claim 32 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Regarding claim 32, Huusko et al. (US Patent 6,397,065) teaches all limitations in claim 31. However, Huusko fails to teach that the network controller of claim 31, wherein the core network is configured to determine the terminal location and the access network includes a drift network controller configured to maintain a connection with the terminal, wherein the network controller is configured to act, at least temporarily, as a serving network controller of the terminal in the access network, and to report the terminal location to the core network, and wherein the network controller is configured to receive location information from the drift network controller and to report the location information to the core network for determining the terminal location. As specified in the claim.

4. Claims 1-30 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claim 1, reference Huusko (US Patent 6,397,065) fails to teach that the access network including a first network controller configured to at least temporarily act as a serving network controller of the terminal and to report a location of the terminal to the core network, and a second network controller configured to at least temporarily act as a drift network controller of the terminal and to maintain a connection with the terminal, the method comprising: transmitting location information of the terminal to the core network based on a first set of predetermined criteria, the location information being indicative of the terminal location; transmitting location information to the second network controller in response to the first set of predetermined criteria; transmitting the location information to the first network controller; reporting the location information to the core network; transforming the location information into transformed location information based on a second set of predetermined criteria; and transmitting the transformed information to the core network in response to the second set of predetermined criteria. As specified in the claim.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
 - a. Widegren et al. (US Patent 6,374,112) discloses Flexible Radio Acces
And Resource Allocation In a Universal Mobile Telephone System.
 - b. Tayloe et al. (US Patent 5,826,188) discloses Method And Apparatus For Handing Off Calls Between Different Network.

c. Naghian (US 2002/0086682) discloses Method For Positioning A Mobile Station.
